Public Notice of Community Consultation Meeting

Under the Atikameksheng Anishnawbek Land Use Law

Re-Zoning of the Business Park

NEW DATE

REVISED MEETING DATE

SEPTEMBER 19TH, 2025, 6-8PM

@ the Community Centre

Purpose of the meeting:

To present & discuss the Re-Zoning Application submitted by Giyak Mishkawzid Shkagmikwe (GMS) to re-zone the Business Park to a Dual Zone, for Business (C1) & Industrial (M1). With the addition of the Industrial Zoning to the Business Park, this would allow industrial uses within the Business Park and broaden GMS's ability to attract high-end businesses. Additionally, the M1 zoning will bring the existing fuel blending station/storage facility into compliance with the Land Use Law.

The purpose of a community consultation is to bring public notice & inform Debendaagziwad of the proposed Re-Zoning of the Business Park.

For Band Members who cannot attend in person, you may hand in a Written submissions to Courtney Corbiere-Wabegijig, Lands Registry Clerk @ lands.clerk@wlfn.com

PUBLIC NOTICE - WATER QUALITY ADVISORY

A Water Quality Advisory has been officially issued for Whitefish Lake-Sacred Grounds site due to elevated levels of E. coli found in recent recreational water samples.

The community is strongly advised not to swim or use the water until further notice. This precaution is in place to protect public health, especially from potential gastrointestinal illnesses and other infections that can result from exposure to E. coli-contaminated water.

Additionally, increased surveillance and monitoring of the lake are underway to track water quality changes and determine when it's safe to lift the advisory.

Why E. coli Contaminates Lakes

E. coli (Escherichia coli) is a type of bacteria normally found in the intestines of humans and animals. While many strains are harmless, some—like E. coli O157:H7—can cause severe illness. Common sources of contamination include:

- Wildlife and pet feces: Animals defecating near or in the water contribute to bacterial buildup
- Stormwater runoff: After heavy rains, urban and rural runoff can carry E. coli into lakes
- Warm, stagnant water and recent rainfall can increase the risk, as they create ideal conditions for bacteria to thrive

Symptoms of E. coli Exposure

Exposure to contaminated recreational water—especially through swallowing or contact with open wounds—can lead to:

- Diarrhea (sometimes bloody)
- Stomach cramps
- Nausea and vomiting
- Low-grade fever
- Hemolytic Uremic Syndrome (HUS): A rare but serious condition that can cause:
  - Kidney failure
  - Anemia
  - Low platelet count
  - Long-term health complications or even death, especially in children and the elderly

WHAT OUR STUDENTS ARE SAYING

"My expectations of the course were more than met. Gary and Sheila have a solid knowledge of theory and practise. They are patient and practical teachers. Gary and Sheila have a strong ability to teach a group of students who come with a range of backgrounds, knowledge and goals; and they are able to cultivate a sense of belonging within the group."

"I have experienced a lot of heaviness in life, (anxiety, depression, small trauma etc.) and have lived in a constant state of fight or flight for many years. Mindfulness has brought space from that. A way to calm my nervous system and give my mind a break. I took away so much from this course."

"I have gained a solid foundation for meditation and collected a number of tools that I use on a daily basis to create spaciousness, connect with my breath and accept change. The teachers were very insightful and well informed."

Notice: Temporary Closure of Sacred Fire Arbour

Dear Debendaagziwaad,

As part of the ongoing beautification efforts at our Sacred Grounds, the Planning and Infrastructure Department had a scheduled inspection of the Sacred Fire Arbour conducted by the North Shore Tribal Council Building Inspector on Thursday, July 17, 2025.

During the inspection, it was identified that the structural component (king post) appears to be compromised. As a precaution and in the interest of community safety, the Sacred Fire Arbour is temporarily restricted for use until further notice. This temporary closure will allow time for a comprehensive structural assessment to be completed by a structural engineer.

The temporary Sacred Fire Arbour in the Teaching at Sacred Grounds is still available for use.

Further updates will be shared once the full engineering assessment is complete.

We appreciate your understanding and cooperation.
