ANISHINABEK NATION

INDIAN HOSPITALS CLASS ACTION: CLAIMS PERIOD IS NOW OPEN BRIEFING NOTE

TO: Anishinabek Nation First Nation Chiefs and Council

FROM: Kelsey Anger, Reconciliation Department Director

DATE: March 3, 2026

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

On January 27, 2026 the Claims Period opened for the Federal Indian Hospital Class Action Settlement. Claimants have until July 27, 2028 to submit a Claim for compensation for psychological, verbal, physical, and/or sexual abuse experienced while admitted to a Federal Indian Hospital during the years it was operated by the Government of Canada. The settlement does not include compensation for harms experienced as a result of medical malpractice at these facilities.

The Indian Hospital Class Action was filed in 2018 against Canada for harms experienced by Indigenous patients at federal Indian Hospital facilities. This settlement includes financial compensation to previous patients within the period of January 1, 1936 to December 31, 1981, with each hospital location having individually specific periods of operation by Canada. As well, the proposed settlement includes the ability for executors of estates to apply on behalf of a deceased loved one who was living as of January 25th, 2016.

BACKGROUND

The federal government established 33 hospitals across the country which provided medical treatment to hundreds of thousands of First Nations patients during the class period, January 1, 1936 to December 31, 1981. These facilities, under the responsibility of Canada, resulted in irrefutable harm, abuse, and neglect of First Nations peoples which has proven to have a long-lasting negative impact on these previous patients. Therefore, an action was filed against Canada in 2018 and was certified as a class action by the Federal Court on January 17, 2020. On March 6, 2025, a proposed settlement was reached. This court-approved Settlement was approved by the Federal Court in June 24, 2025 and the claims period opened January 27th, 2026.

CURRENT STATUS

Within Ontario there where five (5) Indian Hospitals which are included in this settlement, the specific dates of operational eligibility are:
Lady Willington Indian Hospital, January 1, 1936 - September 30, 1968;
Manitowaning Indian Hospital, January 1, 1941 - March 31, 1951; January 1, 1959 - March 31, 1962;
Moose Factory Indian Hospital, September 9, 1950 - December 31, 1981;
Sioux Lookout Indian Hospital, December 12, 1949 - December 31, 1981;
Squaw Bay Indian Hospital, May 1, 1942 - May 31, 1953.

KEY CONSIDERATIONS

Compensation ranges between $10,000 and $200,000, based on the severity of abuse.The Settlement does not include compensation for medical malpractice or claims connected to medical treatment. Eligible Primary Class Members will receive a single payment reflecting the most severe abuse they suffered while admitted to a Federal Indian Hospital. The Settlement includes the creation of a Foundation which will manage two separate funds: A Healing Fund that will provide $150,000,000 to support healing, wellness, reconciliation, protection of languages, education and commemoration activities. And a Research and Commemoration Fund that will provide $235,500,000 to support research, education and preservation of the history of Federal Indian Hospitals and locating burial sites associated with the Hospitals. In order to assist community members with applications, First Nations can issue a BCR to allow a researcher from their community to access records which are available pertaining to a community member's attendance at a hospital. Unfortunately funding is not currently available to support this effort and records may not exist for a person's time at the facility.

SHARING CIRCLES

FOCUSED ON

CHILD WELL-BEING LAW

Our children deserve a future rooted in love, safety, culture, and community. That's why we are continuing the important work of strengthening our Child Well-Being Law—the law that guides how we care for and protect our children and families.

As we move forward, we want this law to truly reflect the voices, values, and vision of our community. We are revamping our community engagement sessions because we recognize that meaningful change begins with listening. This is your opportunity to help shape what child well-being looks like for our Nation, today and for generations to come.

To ensure everyone feels comfortable sharing, we will be hosting Sharing Circles focused on the Child Well-Being Law. These circles are being created as respectful, supportive spaces where community members can speak openly and honestly. At each session:

- A support person will be available should anyone need emotional support.
- Cultural components will be woven throughout.
- We will ground ourselves in the 7 Grandfather Teachings, ensuring our conversations are guided by wisdom, love, respect, bravery, honesty, humility, and truth.

Your voice matters. Your experiences matter. Your hopes for our children matter. We encourage all community members to attend one of the scheduled dates and be part of this important conversation. If you're unable to attend, we still want to hear from you. Please feel free to reach out to Heather Nootchtai to arrange a time to connect directly.

Together, we can build a Child Well-Being Law that reflects our teachings, protects our children, and strengthens our families. We look forward to sitting in circle with you.

For more information, please contact:

- Kerri Chevrier, Family Advocacy Manager, at familyadvocacy.manager@wlfn.com
- Rachel Pattison, Director of Social Services, at dss@wlfn.com

If you can't make it to one of the sessions, please contact Heather Nootchtai at healthpromo.manager@wlfn.com to book a one-on-one session or for more information.

THE ENERGY CORRIDOR FIRST NATIONS

LOGO ARTWORK COMPETITION

The Energy Corridor First Nations (ECFN) is a consortium of 11 Ontario First Nations which have united to build, own and operate major electrical transmission infrastructure in our treaty and traditional lands.

We are seeking artwork which embodies some of the following concepts: economic reconciliation, First Nations sovereignty and unity, opportunities for future generations, prosperity, traditional knowledge, land stewardship and electrical transmission infrastructure.

Who can enter the contest: Self-identifying First Nation artists from across Canada are invited to submit a two-dimensional original piece of art to ECFN either in high-quality electronic format or in hardcopy. Artists may submit multiple entries.

How to submit: Please download the entry form and send in along with your artwork to:
